Arkansas AG approves ballot measure that allows abortion for any reason

LITTLE ROCK – Attorney General Tim Giffin has approved a ballot measure that would allow abortion for any reason in the state which for the last 18 months has had virtually no legal abortions.

“Besides cruelly allowing babies to be aborted up to the moment of birth, this extreme amendment would give abortionists access to minor girls without their parent’s knowledge, and remove laws protecting women from injury, coercion and death from abortionists,” said Rose Mimms, executive director of Arkansas Right to Life. “The women of our state and the babies they carry deserve better than to have our state constitution altered for the sake of the profit-driven abortion industry,” said Rose Mimms, executive director of Arkansas Right to Life.

"Arkansans Right to Life urges all the people of our state to decline signing petitions as they are being circulated in the coming months," said Mimms.
