

Almost one year ago, Arkansas dodged a bullet. Pro-abortion extremists tried to put an amendment into our state constitution — and they failed.

But across the country, they've been winning. In just 3 years, 14 states have faced pro-abortion amendments. The abortion lobby has won 11 of those battles — including in Arizona, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio, and New York. We asked ourselves “What if?” What if they made the ballot on their next attempt? What if they were successful and passed an amendment? In the last few weeks we have reviewed some of these states to answer those questions.

Their formula is simple:

- Pour millions of dollars from out-of-state donors into the amendment campaign.
- Use vague, deceptive slogans to hide their true agenda.
- Flood TV, radio, and social media with ads.
- Let the abortion-friendly media echo their campaign lies.

Their agenda is extreme:

- X Abortion limits – gone.
- X Safety rules like physician-only abortions and waiting periods – gone.
- X Parental consent for minors – gone.
- X Even basic sanitation laws for abortion facilities – gone.
- X Taxpayer funding for abortion – forced.

We've seen it happen in 11 states. Even voters who are politically pro-choice don't support abortion until birth with no limits — that's why the extreme pro-amendments are written so vaguely.

Arkansas is the most pro-life state in America, but that doesn't make us safe from an extreme pro-abortion amendment. We are a target. And if we're not prepared, they will win here too.

That's why we're growing our army, and we can't do it without you.
